Press Release: 4/11/23

Hits Like a Hammer!

Pillager, MN: Magnum Research is thrilled to announce the first handgun to be offered in Remington's exciting new .360 Buckhammer cartridge! With unrivaled ballistic performance in its class, the .360 Buckhammer is optimized to deliver effective performance and a drop that is ideal across common hunting ranges. This straight walled cartridge is built with high quality Remington components for reliable ignition, and a Core-Lokt .358 caliber bullet delivering both weight retention and controlled expansion. The .360 BHMR is the ultimate straight wall hunting cartridge. Magnum Research's Biggest Finest Revolver is legendary for its reliability, accuracy, and strength, making it ideally suited to be the first handgun chambered in the .360 Buckhammer. With its 10", 1:12 twist barrel, the .360 BFR will deliver rounds down range, on target, and with ideal handgun hunting performance. The plow handle style rubber grips will tame the recoil of the powerful round, and the stainless steel finish makes it super durable in the field. Brett Pikula, Magnum Research Master Gunsmith, said "we are super excited to work with Remington's team in bringing the .360 Buckhammer to market! With its proven record as the ideal hunting handgun for the American sportsman, I am confident our customers will find this cartridge's ballistic performance to be exceptional from the BFR." Visitors to the 2023 NRA Convention in Indianapolis can see the .360 Buckhammer BFR in person at the Kahr booth, number 3208, and the Remington booth, number 5461.
