CUSTOM DESERT EAGLE L5

Magnum Research introduces its third handgun influenced by Norse warrior culture, the "Viking Desert Eagle L5". If Thor had a handgun, there is no question that it would be anything other than a mighty Desert Eagle pistol. Viking cultural traditions have been a powerful influence on modern warriors, with their devotion to battle, and to the weapons they carried. The Viking Desert Eagle L5 is inspired by Norse long swords taken from archeological digs.

Each of these custom handguns has a weathered finish that is hand distressed to resemble ancient blades, and protected by a clear coat to be both unique and durable. The result is a visually striking and unique firearm that combines the rugged, sophisticated design of the Desert Eagle with the ancient, mythic imagery of Norse culture. Without question, the Viking Desert Eagle is the perfect collectible piece for gun enthusiasts with an interest in Norse history and culture. The Mark XIX L5 in .50 AE features a 5-inch barrel with integral muzzle brake. The black frame is hard-coat anodized with a Hogue® finger groove rubber grip. Overall length is 9.69", height is 6.25" and the slide width is 1.25". All light-weight Desert Eagle L5 models are New York State compliant. One seven round magazine is included.
